

Hickory Public Schools

Week in Review

March 19, 2016

"A snapshot of HPS good news"

Together, we can make a difference!

On Tuesday, March 15, Dr. Robbie Adell hosted the inaugural Superintendent's Advisory Council. More than 100 community members attended the successful evening event—which focused on the current state of Hickory Public Schools and the district's focus to strengthen achievement for ALL students. The evening started with a social gathering as members of the HHS Orchestra performed. A new HPS marketing video premiered and those in attendance provided overwhelming positive feedback for the informative event.

Save the Date!

Hickory Public Schools will host a visit from NC State Superintendent, Dr. June Atkinson on Tuesday evening, April 12, 2016. HPS Superintendent, Dr. Robbie Adell, will welcome and introduce Dr. Atkinson—who will address the state of NC Public Schools, today. The event will be held at St. Luke's United Methodist Church Family Life Center, starting at 5:30 PM. More details to come!

LEFT: Focus on Calculus! Ms. Nicole Black's calculus students were recently observed deep in problem solving out in the mall area of Hickory High. Lots of hard work and dedication to getting the right answers!

BELOW: The CSI team at HCAM worked with the CMPD Crime Scene Investigators to solve a practice crime scene. The two investigators from Charlotte helped the senior team to prepare for their state competition in Greensboro next month.

Congrats to these Hickory High orchestra students who earned HHS's 38th consecutive Superior rating at the State Music Performance Assessment Festival.
